Summer 2024

Dear Friend,

My name is Camille Rennie and I am the Founder and Director of the Company of Collaborative Artists (CoCA), a nonprofit dance company established in the summer of 2021 with a mission to continue making space for dance art and creative community experiences despite the global shutdown and industry pause on public dance performance. I knew that the transformative power of movement combined with an innovation in immersive dance performance could support both individuals and communities alike to discover new pathways, connections, and expression in the body & mind as they processed the new realities of our present times. I resolved to take our creative process outdoors into public spaces; beach boardwalks, congested sidewalks, and waterfront piers became our new studios, and people passing by became live audiences in real-time, influencing our creative environment and forcing us to make bold artistic choices based on their migration pathways, engagement, energy, and overall gaze. This expanded the landscape on why and how we dance, transforming what we once considered dance performance in its fullness into small vignettes of immersive art that ignited presence and awareness for all assembled. We shortened the distance between artist and audience, and soon, our pop-up public showings led us to develop community workshops in schools and universities, create site-specific dance films with artistic collaborators, present new works in festivals, produce our 1st annual community gala and show, and garner the financial support for fiscal sponsorship by Dance New Jersey.

In June 2023, we celebrated our 2nd anniversary as a company, as well as the news of our nonprofit status approval as a public arts charity, 509(a)(2). With this designation comes a new opportunity to grow and scale our artistic works, programming, and community impact, as well as the great potential to learn, collaborate, and share with like-minded individuals and organizations that value the experience of embodied connection. We seek partnerships with innovators that can empower our mission in the global community and advance our knowledge and resources in diverse industries to help us reach our goals and mission. We are small, but we have a mighty purpose, and we need your support to fulfill it.

We are at the moment where we are looking to donors like you to help us expand our reach and impact in ways that are sustainable and successful in a changing world market. Art has stood the test of time, and we are confident that with your support CoCA will also lay the groundwork for a long legacy of conscious connection and embodied movement around the globe. We are grateful for your generosity in advance, and we look forward to welcoming you into our patron family.
